Annual Impact Report
SASKATCHEWAN

It has been a difficult year for many of us, at home and around the world. But that didn't stop you from choosing compassion. It didn't stop you from choosing kindness and generosity. We want you to be able to take some time to celebrate. To pause and reflect on the work that you've made possible.

Explore your local impact in Saskatchewan.

By choosing generosity you have chosen to provide welcome to refugees looking for safety. You have chosen to work toward restorative justice and healing in our communities. You have chosen to listen to, and amplify the voices of Indigenous neighbours.

You made the choice to work for a better world.

Thank you.

THANK YOU FROM OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

I am deeply grateful for the continuous generosity and courageous compassion that you – donors, volunteers, supporters, and churches – have offered to MCC’s activity in Saskatchewan and around the world this year. In the midst of natural disasters and stressed health and education systems, you are stepping alongside vulnerable yet resilient families and communities with empathetic and timely responses. In the midst of community polarizations and global conflicts, you are, again and again, offering deep care and peaceful practices – curiosity, engagement, dialogue, empathy, dignity, and transformation.

Jesus says, “Abide in me,” and invites us to be witnesses to God’s love in the very midst of our broken and beautiful world. Your participation in ministry with MCC local and global partners has demonstrated your vision for a world of relationships where needs are met and justice and peace prevail.

Relief, development, and peace, in the name of Christ. This is what we do, and it’s who we are.

I invite you to explore and be encouraged by these stories of peacebuilding, resilience, generosity, and hope. Thank you for your courage to act in our fragmented world. Thank you for your part in sharing God’s love and compassion for all.

ABOUT MCC SASKATCHEWAN

MCC Saskatchewan is committed to sharing God’s love and compassion for all in the name of Christ by responding to basic human needs and working for peace and justice. Our work here in Saskatchewan includes: a network of local Thrift Shops; resettlement of refugees; relationship building between Indigenous and settler groups; community-based programming for Newcomer and Indigenous youth; supports for restorative justice, trauma healing and peacebuilding initiatives; and partnerships with churches and community groups to make blankets and pack material aid kits such as relief kits and hygiene kits. There is never a shortage of ways to be involved, serving in the name of Christ!

TERRITORIES

The MCC office and warehouse in Saskatoon is in Treaty Six Territory and the Homeland of the Métis Nation. Our eight MCC thrift shops, our constituent churches and community partners exist throughout Treaty Four and Treaty Six Territories. We are grateful to be able to live, work and serve God the Creator here. As a Christian organization committed to right relationships and the Truth & Reconciliation Calls to Action, we also acknowledge the harm done to Indigenous peoples of these lands. As Treaty people, we strive to work towards reconciliation in our words and deeds.

Volunteers: the heart of MCC Sask.

“My favourite part about volunteering with MCC is the people I work with. We share humour, work ethic and care for one another. We have loads of fun doing an important thing. I can see tangible results from each quilt I sew. I heard from a woman from Syria (in Saskatoon) who was in a refugee camp and had received a quilt that MCC volunteers had made. Very moving!” - Gail Shutiak, Material Resources volunteer for 7 years.

Caption: Howard Derksen at a Buckets of Thanks kit packing event. We are grateful for every small group that packed Relief and Hygiene Kits.

Your generosity reminds individuals and families across the world that they are not alone in times of crisis.

Together, our claim remains that God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble (Psalms 46:1)

RELIEF SALE 2021

After the cancellation of the traditional gathering in 2020, the year was marked by a re-designed Relief Sale event. About 650 people responded generously to a drive-through lunch experience, an Online auction and quilt sale, and a phone-in fundraiser to assist Venezuelan migrants.

Thanks to your generosity, nearly $112,000 was raised. MCC Saskatchewan looks forward to many more years of gathering together with our beloved family, friends and supporters.

BUCKETS OF THANKS

Donors, churches, and community groups eagerly assembled Relief and Hygiene Kits under the new Buckets of Thanks format in small group settings.

Each kit packing event was an incredible time of gratitude and responding to the needs of people around the world.

900 Relief Kits and nearly 2000 Hygiene Kits were shipped out together with 1300 comforters from re-united community groups. Thank you!

GROW HOPE SASK.

Despite the serious drought conditions that affected the province in 2021, and the second year of being unable to host a “field day” event, the project generated a record contribution of over $157,000 to the Canadian Foodgrains Bank.

Not only did donors respond generously to the invitation to “increase the yield” in a time of drought, the project received a significant boost from Canadian Baptist Ministries (CBM) joining the partnership and encouraging their churches and donors to sponsor acres as well.

2021-2022 CHALLENGES AND AFFIRMATIONS

Similar to the previous year when Covid-19 made itself known, 2021 continued to be a year of challenges and affirmations.

In August, the earthquake in Haiti stirred the compassion of donors to contribute over $80,000 to the total of over $750,000 response across Canada. Six months later, we began to see the immediate response to help the people of Ukraine experiencing the effects of war.

At the end of the third fiscal quarter (Dec 2021), it was evident that donations would exceed the record amount received in 2020.

We gratefully receive this re-affirmation of over 1,350 donors and 72 churches for MCC Saskatchewan to continue being a visible expression of the love and compassion that is done in the name of Christ in 45 countries.

“We are stronger together. We have a common purpose of feeding those who are hungry. It’s what our Lord has called us all to do.”

Meadowgreen youth program

This year saw a gradual return to in-person activities in Meadowgreen, for youth aged 8 to 13. The youth were thrilled to be able to interact with one another and participate in a variety of activities from swimming to bicycle repair workshops.

The summer Raise the Peace Day camp resumed with a focus on water safety and water-based activities.

Caption: The Winter Festival attracted over 100 Meadowgreen residents for a fun day of winter treats, carnival games, and horse drawn wagon rides around the neighbourhood. It was wonderful to gather face to face in a safe way. The kids program wouldn't be possible without the support of donors and volunteers.

Because of your love 27 newcomer and Indigenous youth experienced a sense of belonging.

LOCAL PROGRAM REFLECTIONS

The work of walking alongside people in building healthy relationships and communities continued right here in Saskatchewan.

We walked alongside community and church partners to respond to the needs in the province. This year was largely shaped by adapting to life with COVID. A number of presentations, workshops and activities were offered in a hybrid format, with both online and in-person learning opportunities.

Another significant shift involved the exposure of the 215 unmarked graves in the summer of 2021 and the subsequent realization of others on the grounds of Indian Residential Schools (IRS) across the country. Many Canadians were confronted by the realities of IRS and were motivated to engage in learning and reconciliatory action.

This created greater opportunity for reconciliation work paired with the need to hold space for Indigenous partners and friends healing from historical wounds reopened.

“We are excited to see what the next year of kids programming brings and to see the Meadowgreen youth thrive in this space.”

MATERIAL RESOURCES

Your support is a tangible sign of hope in times of crisis.

“I am grateful to MCC for ensuring that we all have the basic necessities that keep us in school despite our financial challenges at home”.

ANTONETTA AYEN, a student at Loreto Girls Secondary School in South Sudan

Material resources shipped last year:

386

School kits

1,940

Hygiene kits

900

Relief kits

1,290

Comforters

676

Infant care kits

195

Dignity Kits

40

Sewing kits

MCC’s newest resource kit supports vulnerable women and girls in crisis situations. A dignity kit contains hygiene and sanitary items, including eco-friendly, washable menstrual pads tailored for women and girls who don’t have ready access to the items they need. Thousands of dignity kits have already been requested by MCC’s partners around the world.

Dignity kits are important because they help keep girls in school and provide menstrual hygiene supplies for their health. These girls, as well as women, cannot manage to buy enough menstrual hygiene supplies for their health because the money they receive as refugees is targeted for food.

Girls miss classes due to lack of hygiene supplies, increasing the rate of school drop out by girls and causing some to enter into early marriages.

MCC THRIFT

Warman MCC Thrift Shop celebrated 25 generous and fruitful years. The total amount forwarded to MCC from the shop from 1996 to 2021 is $1,413,240. Thank you Warman community for your continued support!

“This wouldn’t have been possible without the generosity of volunteers, staff, customers and donors over the past 25 years”

MEL HARMS, assistant manager of Warman MCC Thrift Shop

Your dedication kept thrift shops open for our communities.

What a year for MCC Thrift in Saskatchewan! For much of the year, shops continued to deal with Covid-19, some government restrictions, and changes in consumer buying habits. Despite these challenges and thanks to the effort and commitment of our staff and volunteers, MCC Thrift enjoyed a successful year.

We are grateful to our many volunteers, but we realize that to continue to grow and serve our donors, and customers we need to rejuvenate our volunteer base and increase our volunteer numbers. This coming year we will be focusing on recruiting and training the next generation of volunteers.

In 2022-2023, we are excited to celebrate 50 years of MCC Thrift. Since the first MCC Thrift shop opened in Saskatchewan in 1974, Saskatchewan MCC Thrift shops have raised over $19 million dollars for MCC programs.

MCC THRIFT

$630,485

We continued to partner with RJC High School to provide youth with opportunities to learn about peace and justice topics.

Conflict Transformation Tools

Within our communities and families, we have seen how division and polarization can cause injustice, broken relationships and violence. In response, the first Conflict Transformation course provided practical peace-building skills with the goal of equipping people for the courageous act of transforming conflict. 25 participants covered a range of topics including how to have difficult conversations, mediation skills and how to be an active bystander.

Migration & Resettlement

Faced with the massive numbers of Afghan refugees fleeing from the Taliban takeover, the Migration and Resettlement Office could only help a few. Our first application was for a womens' rights advocate and her two adult sons.

Subsequently, working with Climate Justice Saskatoon, we welcomed a young female student environmental activist and a young family who had been helped across the border by a German-based initiative of youth climate movement, Fridays for Future.

“I am trying to gently engage in conflict even if it isn't comfortable for me. I want to advocate for others and stand up for others and be an ally to those who need one.”

Financial highlights

Mennonite Central Committee (MCC), a worldwide ministry of Anabaptist churches, shares God's love and compassion for all in the name of Christ by responding to basic human needs and working for peace and justice

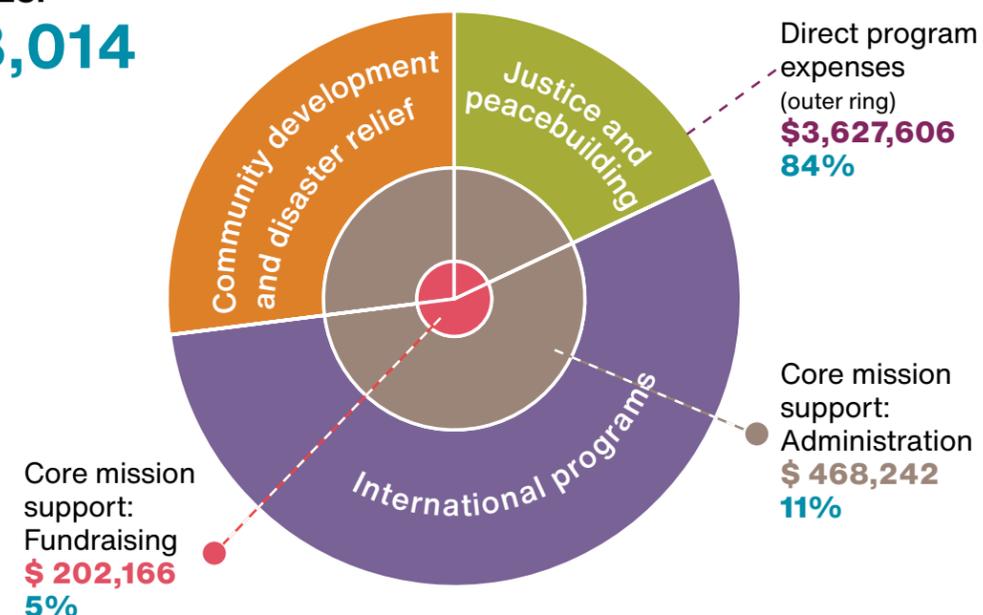

Just as our program activities follow this mission statement, so do our finances. Together with your support, MCC Saskatchewan raised $4.7 million dollars in donations, grants and earned income this fiscal year. This includes $630,485 in contributions from our eight community Thrift shops. $1.4 million was used to fund programs and core mission services here in our province. We sent $2.8 million to MCC Canada to fund international programming. Your generous giving enables us to respond to basic human needs through agriculture, education, food, health, relief, peacebuilding and water projects.

We are humbled everyday by the hundreds of supporters that breathe life into MCC with each gift, each action and each relationship.

We just want to say thank you. Last year, in times of conflict and unrest, you made the choice to reach out and help your global neighbours.

We invite you to take a moment and reflect on the difference you've made. Take a look back at the stories made possible with your support.

You brought relief to people facing war and disaster. You gave the gift of clean water to create healthier communities. You provided education and training to help people improve their own futures. You helped build peace.

We couldn't be more grateful.

MCC envisions communities worldwide in right relationship with God, one another and creation. In our second century of service, we reaffirm our Christ-led commitment to serve and learn from vulnerable people around the world.

The MCC Canada and MCC U.S. boards identified these four strategic directions to guide our work from 2021–2025:

1. Increasing the capacity of our partners to help uprooted and vulnerable people
2. Improving communication with churches and constituents
3. Increasing peacebuilding and justice work
4. Caring for God's creation and supporting communities harmed by climate change.

A THANK YOU FROM OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Brutal wars, unrelenting COVID-19, and the worst global hunger crisis in decades.

One could easily draw parallels to three of the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse riding together across the globe.

But, for MCC, these crises don't signal the end. In fact, we choose to embrace this moment as yet another opportunity to share God's love with others. As we continue to abide in Christ, we choose hope over despair. We choose action over alarm. It is much like our response has been for more than a century. We work with local partners to find the best ways to respond to basic human needs in the name of Christ:

- provide food baskets and shelter for families fleeing violence — from Ukraine to Syria to the Democratic Republic of the Congo;
- advocate for just and equitable global access to COVID-19 vaccines;
- help increase food security when food is hard to access.

More than any year in recent memory, the challenges we have faced as a global community have been immense, multiple and overlapping. Of course, we all grow weary at times. And yet, a deep hope springs from a shared, communal response to loss and suffering. The Jesus message is not only to individuals, but to communities who live his love into a hurting world.

You have lived that love again this year through MCC, and we are deeply grateful.

RICK COBER BAUMAN
 EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, MCC CANADA

“Knowing that a food parcel is always delivered makes such a difference in our lives.”

A RECIPIENT OF FOOD IN SYRIA

Farah* and her siblings receive food through an MCC partner working in Syria. (MCC photo)

Without the food baskets Farah* and her siblings receive through an MCC partner in Syria, they wouldn't have enough food to survive.

The price of fuel and the fluctuating global economy are causing food prices in Syria to climb even more dangerously out of reach for so many.

Farah's parents had to flee Al Raqqa because of the dangers of the ongoing conflict in Syria. Her father tries to bring in money for the family by collecting cardboard boxes and selling them to a factory for recycling. Her mother is trying to raise and care for all her siblings and some of their cousins who live with them. She tends a small garden to grow a few vegetables for the family to eat. But what she can produce is far from enough food for so many hungry stomachs.

If not for your generous gifts, Farah* and her family would have almost no chance.

But with your support, and funding through MCC's account at Canadian Foodgrains Bank, an MCC partner in Syria distributes monthly food baskets to thousands of families like Farah's every month. A basket for one family costs $65 per month. Your support helps families like Farah's every day.

When Vivian Warkentin heard about Share Your Table, MCC's monthly giving program, she knew right away it sounded like how she wanted to help. "It really appealed to me as a way to give immediate, sustained help when people are most in need of emergency care. I am most fortunate in living in a place where food is something that is readily available ... that should be everyone's reality!"

The sun was barely in the sky when Pierre Hérorol felt the earth shake beneath his feet. The 7.2 magnitude earthquake devastated much of southern Haiti and was the deadliest disaster on the planet in 2021. Thousands were killed, injured or left without safe shelter. They lost their means to earn money to buy food or medicine. But thanks to you, Pierre’s story didn’t end there.

Your support meant MCC partners in Haiti could distribute canned turkey meat and relief kits to Pierre and other vulnerable people, pregnant women, people with disabilities or those whose homes had been destroyed. One can of turkey costs around $6.50 and contains about half the minimum daily calorie requirement for someone in an emergency situation. With damaged roads and widespread flooding, that turkey was the only substantial food many survivors could find for days.

At a time when every moment mattered, you ensured that MCC responded quickly with life-saving relief.

Your gifts fed vulnerable Haitians after a devastating earthquake.

“Thank you for not leaving us alone. We’ve felt very alone these last days... hoping someone would not forget us.”

1,255

households received home repairs or reconstruction

2,555

Tchana Atiaribou has a lot of factors working against her dream of being a teacher. Burkina Faso has some of the lowest rates of female students on the planet. She was only in Grade 1 when her mother died. And she lives far from her school with no way to easily and safely travel the long distance to get there.

But your kindness is helping her overcome those challenges. Thanks to your support, an MCC partner in Burkina Faso provides Tchana and many other students like her the resources they need to access a good education. Your donations fund enrollment in school or work apprenticeships, medical checkups, food, hygiene items and counselling. And thanks to the bikes they loan, Tchana doesn't have to walk the total 30 km route every day.

Tchana says she wants to be a teacher, a reality that would be impossible without the help she's receiving because of you. One bike costs $112 and that investment will carry many students to and from school.

Thanks to your kindness, Tchana and her classmates can access the education they deserve.

Farming in Potosí, Bolivia, at 12,000 ft of elevation, isn't easy. But it at least used to be consistent. Farmers there knew when to expect rain and when it would be dry. Now, due to the disruptions of climate change, the once consistent precipitation has become unreliable. Where light rain once fell daily, farmers experience weeks of drought interrupted by the kind of driving rain that can scatter seedlings.

The thousands who make their homes high in the mountains rely on their crops to survive. But this way of life is in danger as they can no longer rely on the weather. Thanks to your donations, they now have the necessary tools to adapt.

MCC partner PRODII is working in places like Potosí to find creative and effective solutions to collect and maintain their water supply in the challenging mountain environments. Using a system of reservoirs and water collection, farmers in Potosí are ensuring their water supply remains more constant.

Because of your generosity, the farmers of Potosí are equipped to adapt to their changing climate.

Because of you, Teofilo's crops can survive even when no rain falls.

In Nepal’s Dhading District, many villages have very limited access to safe water and clean bathroom facilities. Every year more than 800,000 people, including children, die from diarrhea caused by dirty water or unsafe hygiene practices. Nirmala did what she could to keep her family safe, but she was limited without additional resources and education.

But now, your support has given her the tools and training she needs. Providing water to a home like Nirmala’s costs around $390. Your gifts helped MCC’s local partner build essential infrastructure like handwashing stations, latrines and taps for clean drinking water. They also provide training for people like Nirmala so they can keep their families healthy. The checklist she now has on her wall reminds her how to purify water correctly and has other tips like handwashing techniques.

Since the project began, the rates of diarrhea in the area for children under five have decreased by 50%. That amazing result is because of your support.

“The partner’s local knowledge, combined with strong technical capacity for infrastructure construction, has led to a very effective project and significantly healthier communities,” says Luke Jantzi, MCC representative for Nepal.

Your donations are keeping Nirmala’s family healthy.

“The impact of this project on the lives of children and their families is incredible to witness. Simple interventions like access to clean water, handwashing facilities and latrines can have enormous impacts.”

When the first vaccines were announced during the COVID-19 pandemic, it quickly became clear that the wealthiest countries were the ones with priority access to the life-saving technology. But because of your generosity, MCC has been a powerful leader in advocating for Canada’s government to pursue global vaccine equity.

MCC’s Peace & Justice office recognized that globally we have enough vaccines and vaccine manufacturing capacity to ensure that everyone can be vaccinated. What was missing was coordinated global political will. While some countries, including Canada, have committed to dose sharing and increasing global health funding, there is still no resourced global vaccination plan.

The Peace & Justice Office has also lent its advocacy expertise to Love My Neighbour, a multi-faith organization dedicated to ensuring everyone has access to vaccines, regardless of wealth.

Your support means moving everyday Canadians and our government’s highest powers to recognize how vital it is to ensure that vaccines are available to everyone everywhere.

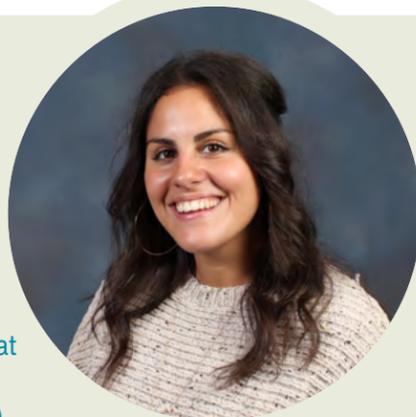

Your donations are working to give everyone access to vaccines.

“Making sure people have access to vaccines everywhere, no matter their citizenship, is exactly the kind of thing we want to lend our experience and voice to support.”

When Reanna Teske started chatting online with Khalil al Hamadi, she had no idea how they would change each other's lives.

Khalil was living with his wife, Nadeen al Zoubi, and their children in the Zaatari refugee camp in Jordan. They'd fled their home in Syria during the war. Some 80,000 refugees call Zaatari home today, despite the incredibly tough conditions. Emergency food, water and medical care barely sustain the people who live there.

But Reanna happened to see Khalil talking about his experience on Facebook and struck up a conversation. They chatted every day for nearly two years and forged a friendship that led Reanna to form a group to sponsor the family for resettlement in Canada.

Because of your gifts, MCC could provide Reanna and her group the support they needed to navigate the logistics of the sponsorship process. But perhaps more importantly, it meant that Khalil and his family landed in a new country with a loving community already waiting for them.

To this day, Reanna, Khalil and their families remain close. "I think that's been one of the biggest surprises, these fast friendships and these really close friendships that have become like family," says Reanna.

Because you gave to MCC, Khalil and his family have safety and security.

"Thank you to MCC for giving my whole life hope again. And then to give me and my kids and my family and Nadeen a new life in Canada."

When Karen Perez heard about an opportunity to sponsor Ramadan's* family to resettle in Canada from Ethiopia, she jumped at the chance. "I really wanted something that my kids could be part of. We didn't know anyone and had no idea what this involved, but we are so grateful we said yes!" Her family has since gone on to sponsor the rest of Ramadan's* family who has been separated for five years.

YOUNG ADULTS VOLUNTEERING IN THE NAME OF CHRIST

You are providing young adults opportunities for growth and service.

“I hope that the variety of work and experiences from this year will continue to remind me that my actions make a difference.”

SARAH JANZEN, 2021/2022 SALT PARTICIPANT

Sarah Janzen knew that spending a year in a new country and context would be full of the unexpected. But, with MCC’s Serving and Learning Together program (SALT), she was able to practice adapting to the situation when she went from her home in Winnipeg, Man., to Beirut, Lebanon — a city in the middle of multiple crises.

“This year has often required changing my expectations: about the availability of resources, the electricity schedule, government involvement and what I’ll do or learn or experience,” she says. “I’m also learning that no matter how much you change your expectations, there is always a place for hope.”

The SALT program celebrated its 40th anniversary last year. Since 1981, more than 1,300 SALTers have served in 58 countries. They have walked alongside local communities, and have learned about themselves and the world around them.

After SALT, Sarah wants to continue working in the non-profit world. “I hope that the variety of work and experiences from this year will continue to remind me that my actions make a difference and that I can tackle whatever comes my way.”

A GRASSROOTS LEGACY

In 1972, in Altona, Man., Susan Giesbrecht, Linie Friesen, Selma Loewen and Sara Stoesz opened up the very first MCC Thrift shop. None of them thought the shop would even last the year. “It grew much beyond what I, or any of the four of us, thought it would grow into,” says Giesbrecht, now 93 years old.

Before the shop opened, MCC used to ship secondhand clothes all over the world. Eventually, leadership determined the money spent on shipping would be better spent buying supplies locally. That’s when the enterprising women came up with the idea to turn used clothing into money.

HELPING PEOPLE

From the humble, grassroots beginnings, MCC Thrift has grown into a thriving network of 86 shops across Canada and the U.S. Since 1972, these shops have donated more than $305 million to the work of MCC.

Proceeds from the shops support MCC projects internationally and here at home. When you purchase dishes at your local MCC Thrift shop, you also help provide emergency food for people fleeing conflict in places like Ukraine. When you donate books to an MCC Thrift shop, you’re helping to provide reading material to students in places like Rwanda. And when you pick up gently used furniture, you’re helping provide support to newcomers in Canada. Each time you shop, donate or volunteer with MCC Thrift, you help make the world a better place.

HELPING THE PLANET

Shopping at MCC Thrift also helps the planet by keeping gently used items out of landfills and reducing the amount of materials used to create new things. As much as possible, MCC Thrift shops work to resell, recycle or upcycle items to reduce waste. In 2020, 1,908 people took the Thrift First pledge and committed to try and shop for secondhand clothes before buying any new items. If each person who signed up bought even three items secondhand instead of new, that would have kept more than 5,700 pieces of clothing out of the landfill!

Together with our volunteers, communities and customers, we are working to create a more sustainable future.

“Thrift volunteers and staff are making significant contributions in their communities and in the lives of people around the world. This anniversary is an opportunity to celebrate and thank them for all that they do.”

The situation in Cuba was incredibly dire when a shipment of MCC relief kits and canned food arrived. The ongoing pandemic and U.S. trade embargo created a period of immense scarcity. Store shelves were sitting empty in much of the country and people were unable to get the resources they needed.

“People had told me they haven’t had an egg or any kind of meat for six months,” says Bonnie Klassen, MCC area director for South America, Mexico and Cuba. “They were out of toothpaste, so they were brushing their teeth with soap.”

But your caring support meant that people like Clara Rodríguez got the food and hygiene items they desperately needed. Nearly 20,000 kg of supplies including relief kits, hygiene kits and canned chicken — collected and packed by MCC volunteers — were distributed by MCC partners in Cuba.
